

Call for Country Residential Instructor(s)

Position title: Contract Instructor – Country Residential Specialist

What's this about?

Do you love what you do in real estate and enjoy sharing your knowledge with others? If so, we want to meet you. We are currently seeking enthusiastic, part-time contract instructors to join our instructional team and deliver quality training programs to CREB[®] members.

What will you be doing?

As a CREB[®] contract instructor specializing in country residential training, you will play a pivotal role in enhancing the professional development of CREB[®] REALTORS[®]. Your primary responsibilities will include:

- Virtually delivering engaging, informative training that equips members with the knowledge and tools necessary to conduct country residential real estate transactions
- Staying current with industry trends, best practices and regulatory requirements
- Promoting collaboration, reflecting CREB[®] values, and delivering a high-quality learning experience

Additional opportunities to teach other CREB[®] residential courses may be available.

Who are we looking for?

If you're a strong communicator with a solid work ethic and a passion for helping others succeed, you may be a great fit. Whether you're an experienced instructor or a real estate professional with deep country residential expertise and a desire to teach, we'd like to meet you.

Requirements:

- A minimum of five years of active real estate experience
- Accreditation in training and/or education from a post-secondary institution (degree, diploma or certificate), or a willingness to obtain one within your first year
- Previous training experience is an asset, but not required

Ready to join us?

Apply by March 6, 2026, and tell us why you're the right choice for this position.

How to apply:

Submit your application to:

Yanike Robinson, Manager, Member Training

yanike.robinson@creb.ca

Include your resume and cover letter outlining your interest in becoming a CREB[®] trainer.

Thank you.
